Inspiring Futures

A partnership for success

By working together, Capita Entrust makes it easier for educators to educate and inspire futures.

When it comes to education, a joint approach often works best, leading to better learning pathways and opportunities. That's why we've come together as Capita Entrust, to make things easier and better for the schools and multi-academy trusts (MATs) we support.

Education is fast becoming more complex and challenging to navigate, but we don't want it to become less rewarding. So, we're combining our strengths to provide a simplified offer, and everything our customers need to improve the learning outcomes for their pupils. With Entrust's experience in the public sector and commitment to excellence in education, along with Capita's advanced capabilities and business acumen, we're here to help you more than ever before.

As a partner to over 6,000 schools and MATs across the UK, we understand the complexities and challenges faced by those in education. From delivering stability to scalability to success, our national reach and local expertise will give you the tools and capabilities you need to achieve your goals.

Our unique partnership means we can support everyone who works in the teaching and learning space. Our team of educationalists – combined with our flexible solutions and partner networks – will support you with the broader skillsets you need to fill your specific knowledge gaps, while helping you implement systems and processes for better efficiency and effectiveness.

Together, we're more than the sum of our parts – which means we can do more to help our audience.

Whether you are focused on education improvement, technology, property, finance, governance or workforce development, you can be sure we're here to support your vision and values, along with the understanding and empathy needed to address your exact challenges.

Our offer

We're here to help you deliver positive outcomes and futures for both your staff and young people.

The complexities and contrasting challenges facing every school and education service provider couldn't be in sharper focus. There's the need for stability, but also agility. The expectation of service excellence, but also true operational efficiency. And the need to match empathy, support and responsiveness with foresight, inspiration and discovery.

Success is all about finding the right balance and harnessing a wide range of skills and capabilities to deliver the best possible education outcomes and learning experiences. That's why Capita Entrust has become such an important partner for many thousands of schools and MATs in all areas of the UK.

We provide a vast range of education support services covering everything from supplementary support for severely stretched back-office teams to much more comprehensive management, brokerage and advisory services. You may be looking to maximise efficiencies and effectiveness in specific areas of HR, finance and estate management.

You may be keen to explore new ways to support front line teaching staff in their own career development and to enhance the learning experience of pupils. You may be considering new techniques and new tools to meet sustainability targets and improve school governance. Or, you may just need some help to access, deploy and exploit the very latest digital and education technologies. Whatever your education challenges may be, there are specialists here at Capita Entrust ready to help.

We're a national team delivering regional services, so you can be sure you'll be working side-by-side with local people who understand education in your area.

We can support you with

People solutions and workforce development

We support your people, so they can be the foundations for your success. From managing your recruitment processes, payroll and disciplinary issues, to implementing back-office systems and guiding your staff through mental health pressures, our experts provide you with reassurance and peace of mind.

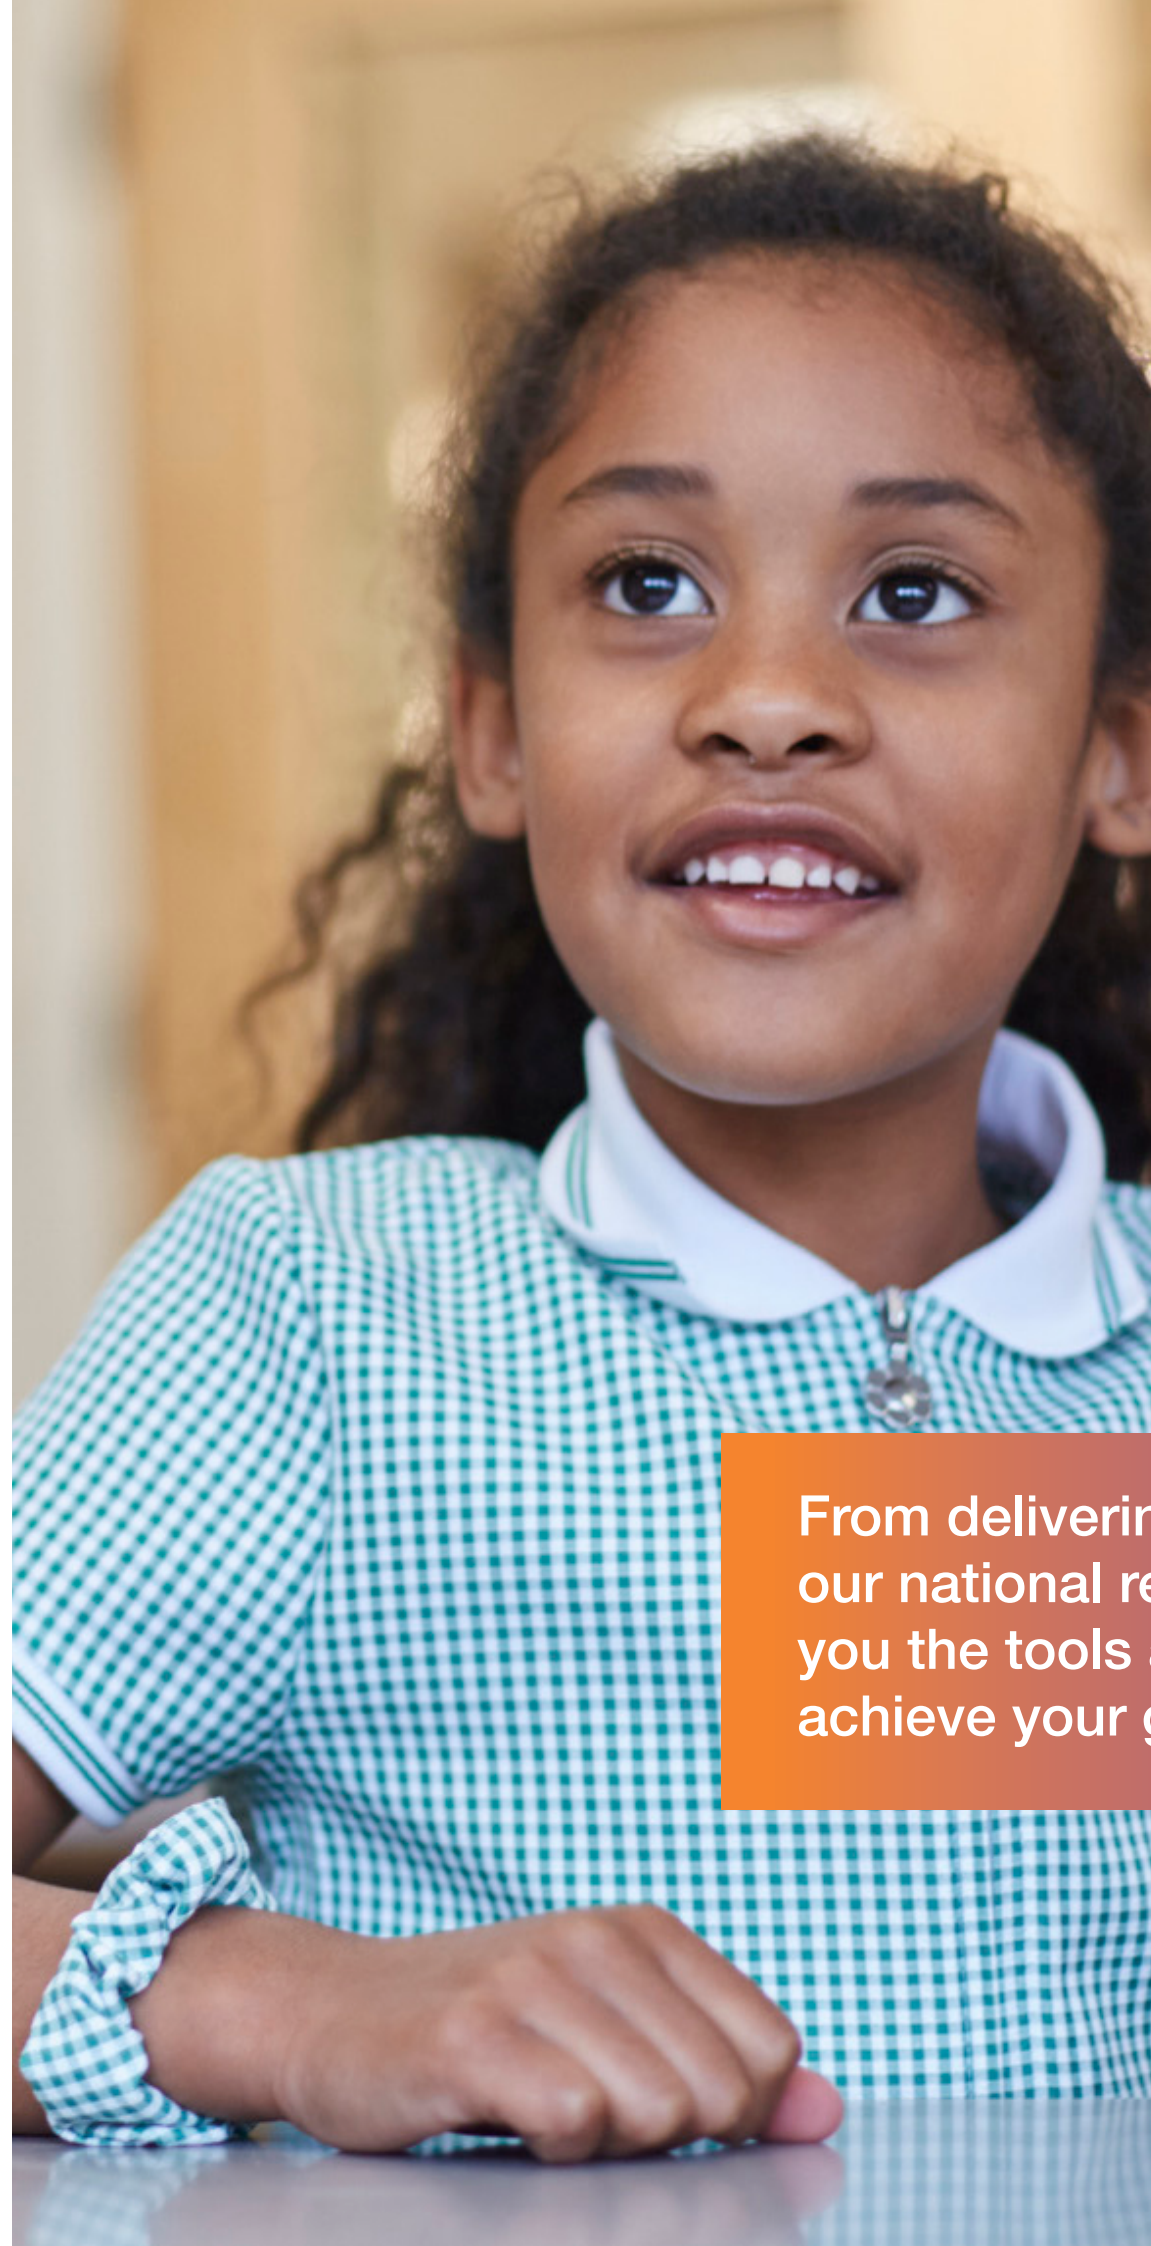

Finance and governance

We have the capability and experience to ensure your strategy and finances are in great shape. Whether you require governor or clerking services, compliancy assistance, budget management or financial planning support, we take care of everything so you can concentrate on your core purpose – education.

Property and facilities management

We create inspirational, safe, healthy and sustainable learning spaces for students, teachers and staff. Our holistic approach supports you in cost-effectively managing the day-to-day operational requirements of your school estate, as well as with your long-term strategic goals.

Pupil skills and career development

From SEN support and school improvement services to outdoor learning, we work closely with you to improve student outcomes, health, wellbeing and appetite for learning. All, while enabling an educational, safe and inclusive experience for pupils.

Education technologies

We deliver technology solutions that improves everyday education for students and staff alike. Whether it's cyber security, safeguarding, IT management or technical support, we optimise technology to enable better learning and teaching outcomes.

From delivering stability to scalability to success, our national reach and local expertise will give you the tools and capabilities you need to achieve your goals.

Whatever the size of your school, academy or trust, we can help. We've already formed long-standing relationships with over 6,000 schools across the UK.

Why Capita Entrust?

A partner who's easy to work with

From back-office personnel to senior leaders and teachers, we're here to support your entire school staff, whatever it takes.

We're a national team delivering regional services, so you can be sure you'll be working side-by-side with local experts who understand education in your area. And you can rely on one account manager to provide a single point of contact and answer all your queries.

As a partner, we're socially responsible, dedicated to helping schools and MATs reach their NetZero, sustainability, diversity, equity and inclusion (DE&I) and levelling-up goals. Plus, with over 600 skilled and committed employees, we can bring you the people-focused, value-driven results you're looking for.

Our experience means we understand and empathise with the challenges you face in education. So, you can count on us to work hard on building a long-term relationship with your organisation – with solutions that are aligned to your objectives and focused on helping you inspire successful futures for students.

Capability where and how you need it

We know one size doesn't fit all. So, we take a flexible, modular approach to make sure everything we do is tailor-made for your school or MAT.

Our all-encompassing portfolio of services are available on-demand, however and whenever it suits your specific requirements. If you need to dial services up or down, we can be flexible to meet shifting agendas or tighter budgets with cost-effective solutions.

In addition, our unique 'consult, transform and deliver' model means we don't just advise you on your options – we deliver the solutions too, based on a proven understanding of what works in the real world and building a bridge to better outcomes.

Through our combined data, technology and people capabilities, we support teachers and decision makers where and when they need it most. It's all to help your organisation grow and thrive, by making it easier for you to educate.

Trusted and connected

Credibility is important. That's why we've come together to harness our collective experience and capabilities for the education sector. You can rely on us as a partner.

Not only are we responsible for delivering well-known contracts like the National Citizen Service and Duke of Edinburgh's Award scheme, we also work closely with the DfE to deliver key programmes, including the Turing Scheme and Flexible Working Programme.

On top of this, we have direct access to other local and national education service providers and our partnership with the Education Policy Institute means we're heavily involved in data analysis, research and exchange of information to help raise education standards across the UK. Plus, we collaborate with local authorities (both district and county). Our partnerships are a direct result of years of dedicated support, helping schools and MATs deliver the best possible outcomes for both staff and students. And our connections mean we can make things easier for your educators to educate and inspire futures.

With over 600 skilled and committed employees, we can bring you the people-focused, value-driven results you're looking for.

Proven educationalists

Our services are designed for educationalists, by educationalists. With access to over 600 education professionals, our team has a true understanding of the different services that can support you to achieve your ambitions.

Many of our staff are governors and trustees at their local schools, academies or MATs, so they know what it's like on the frontline. We are committed, first and foremost, to improving education for students to help them achieve their full potential.

We take intentional action, investing in innovative technologies for services such as STEM and music. Whatever your needs, we can make sure you're fighting fit, skilled and agile for every challenge you face, both now and in the future.
